

“

In the 2 ½ years I've owned and managed Balloon Agencies I've continually used Fastway Couriers, Brisbane to deliver our balloons to customers around the metropolitan area.

I really value the fact that we have our very own couriers. They get to know us and we get to know them [and they] have built a good rapport with our team and they're incredibly reliable – they've never taken a day off in all the time they've been servicing my business. It's so fantastic to have happy, smiling couriers calling in to our office every day – and not just once a day but reliably and consistently four times a day.

As an added value they always give me a traffic report before I leave the office to travel home – if there's a problem on the road they'll give me suggestions for working around it.”
